EVALUATION OF SIBERIA--RED

Steelseries owns a sound word of mouth in the field of E-gaming competition. Its products are various, including keyboard, mouse, mouse pad, and so on. E-game players must be very familiar with SIBERIA, which is top hot in CS because of its style—not much different from the pink, white and blue SK (limited edition of love). The technology of gold-filled connector lug is well done in place. For this reason, there is no need to worry about its coming off. The differences between the red and white/black versions lie in: 1. eye-catching fiery-red color; 2. elegant and also energetic. Its design remains classic: two medal brackets and headset. Brackets are simple-designed while the headset part is elastic so that your ears will not feel too tight or too loose. The design of headset puts people first. Its front side is made of leather and with the red logo “Steelseries” on. And the back side is made of eiderdown. Because of these, the headset is very comfortable for wearing. The stretching function of those two brackets is easy to be controlled, which will not put excessive stress to your head. You can wear the headset comfortably with it stayed in the right place and bring out its best play. The ear muffs are still made of eiderdown. They are big enough to hold the whole parts of your ears, which allow the headset to realize its potential to the greatest degree. The sounding unit is uniquely designed: it has formed a certain angle to the ear muffs. When you take a look at them, you will figure out why. There are some holes at the sides of ear muffs for cooling the heat. I believe most CS players had such an experience that after wearing the ear muffs for a long time, ears became hot and red. This special design will prevent such things from happening. What’s more, these headsets do not need good sound arrester. CS players like discussing with others while playing the game so that the hole-design allows players to hear the talking from other players.
